Atla Annual 2026

Location: Denver, Colorado

Date: November 20–23, 2026

Atla members have gathered annually since 1947 to develop their professional skills, exchange ideas, and connect with colleagues working in religion and theology. With its long history and outstanding programme, the Atla Annual has become one of the premier events for theological and religious librarians worldwide.

Atla has signed a three-year agreement to co-locate its annual conference with the SBL/AAR Annual Meetings. This year, the Atla Annual will take place from 20–23 November 2026 in Denver, Colorado.

Following the success of the previous four conferences, Atla Annual 2026 will once again be offered as a hybrid event, allowing participants to attend either in person or online. We warmly encourage you to join this excellent opportunity to enhance your professional skills, gain fresh insights into current developments in theological librarianship, and engage with colleagues from around the world.
